BANQUET TO M. PAYT.—Mons. Pavy, who will shortly leave this port to make the attempt to reach the North Pole, via Behring's Straits, was last evening the recipient of a complimentary dinner, tendered by the Bohemian Club, as a mark of appreciation for his daring spirit. About fifty persons were present. The banquet was spread at Martin's restaurant, and was a most rechevels and enjoyable affair. A prominent feature on the table was a model of a Polar bear, while above were placed some original attetches, including among others a representation of the explorers carrying off the North Pole on their soulders, while the great bear looks growlingly on. Music had been provided, and during the progress of the entertainment much amusement was caused by a request to the presiding pianist to give "From Greenland's Icy Mountains." That gentleman was, however, not prepared for this, and the meanbers struck up the hymn imprompts. A series of complimentary teasts followed, responded to by the guests of the evening, Judge Dwinele, Mr. Bastman, Cel. Cremory, Marry Edwards, W. Y. Welle, J. T. Bowmen, Harry George and other gestlemen. During the ovening there were seegs by Signer Morley and Mr. Vivian. M. Pavy expressed himself as highly gratified with the hence done him, more especially as coming from a gathering of literary, artistic and prefuseional gentlemen,—S. F. paper. BANQUET TO M. Chief Engineer had started at Mattawa. The natural place to have started was somewhere at the south of Leke Nipissing, and if from engineering difficulties he was driven to the north side, it could not be helped. A distance of forty-two or forty-five miles from Lake Nipissing would be a disappointment to Contario, and the believed further surveys of this part of the country would show that the engineering difficulties were not too great to be overcome. He hoped that local prejudices would not be allowed to interfere with the attlement of the matter, but that it would be considered not simply from an engineering point of view, but with regard also to the great commercial questions involved.

Mr. Blake said his amendment stated that such should only be done if practicable.

Mr. B. B. Wood said the main inducement to the people of Ontario to increase the great expense involved was the hope that the line would connect their railway now proceeding anorthward to Lake Nipissing, and it was understood that the eastern terminus of the line would connect with the railway system of Canada. No one could say that the route in great commercial questions involved. We are authorised to state that
